Site Planning & Development Services

OPTIMIZING LAND USE

The key to maximizing a site's profit potential is to optimize land use. The experts at Belgard help your commercial engineering team look at a variety of options for optimizing your site with permeable interlocking concrete pavement (PICP) systems, segmental retaining walls and rooftop solutions.

SITE STORMWATER MANAGEMENT

Belgard's SWM Pave program helps your engineering team address site planning for stormwater management issues. This includes handling roof water and drainage, managing flat sites without underground conveyance systems, meeting impervious cover requirements, providing geo-reinforced slopes for retention ponds, or even eliminating retention ponds with a PICP system.

DEFINING PUBLIC SPACES

The creative use of retaining walls and paver patterns can separate an outdoor space into specific use areas, guide foot traffic or create a specialized visual impact. Whatever your site design goals, our team of experts will work closely with your team to create a site plan design that is both practical and aesthetically pleasing.
